Kapitel 3: To the tide

Still it's you I'm calling
Until all is falling
Can you hear me
In the blue of the sea
It's still you I see

~

Standing here, on my shoulder your brand
Watching waves, with my feet in the sand
The ocean always comes back to the land
Like at the horizon the earth meets the sky
Never letting go, never saying goodbye

Let the gust
Take my voice like dust
Where the wind goes
And your light shows
It's never ending dusk

~

Forgive me, I was deaf to all your calling
Forgive me, I couldn't stop your falling
The grains of sand ran through your glass
Couldn't catch them, they were way to fast
A little longer for us, they didn't want to last

Grace holder
You were a soldier
So I didn't have to be
You set me free
Now I'm lost

I couldn't hold the line you have crossed
I didn't know how much happiness would cost
It slipped through our fingers like the sands
If we tried to carry water with our hands

In the rushing tide is where it always ends

The abyss is calling
Want to let go, just falling

Into the blue

Lost my anchor too

I lost you

~
